For over fifteen years, Tim Cole has built a solid reputation as most trusted business in the Northland of Kansas City MO. Tim and the staff at CPS - Cole Printing & Signs are committed to providing quality service to the Northland Community. They believe that a reputation as an honest and reliable business is the recipe for success. While others seek to profit by cutting corners, or recommending unnecessary services to customers, they believe that a good reputation and consistent service will reap bigger profits in the long run. By being trustworthy, the CPS staff believe that they will enjoy a long term profitable business that serves the community.

Tim grew up in Kearney, MO working on a cattle farm and there he developed a good work ethic. In 1981 he began his career in the graphic arts industry and as they say "he got ink in his blood". With a desire to be self employed Tim took his printing skills and established Cole Printing in 1993 producing booklets, business forms, envelopes, newsletters, etc. Since then the company has added signs, banners and vehicle graphics along with full color capabilities.

Hotel Package Opportunity

Clay County Tourism Board Members met with April Reece, Assistant General Manager at the Hampton Inn, KC/Liberty, on Wednesday, July 29. Among the items discussed, the Hampton Inn is interested in developing hotel packages that include tickets to attractions and restaurant deals. This particular property regularly accommodates traveling sports teams and families who come to Liberty for tournaments at Fountain Bluffs. In fact, the property was sold out last weekend because of a national AA baseball tournament for 13-14 year age group. These groups travel with families and always have some down time to take in area attractions and entertainment. If an attraction or restaurant from our community is interested in a package, please contact me at the Chamber and we will help get that coordinated.
